

Chief Executive Officer, Australian Cricketers' Association

- Diverse and dynamic leadership opportunity
- Preferred location Melbourne (open to other locations)

The CEO will provide leadership, direction and co-ordinate the operation of the ACA including the effective implementation of short and long term strategies as approved by the ACA Board, in the best interests of its members and the game of Cricket.

In this role you will be responsible for:

- Strategic planning
- Corporate governance, management and accountability
- Profile and standing of ACA
- Membership engagement and benefits
- Key relationships with the playing groups
- Player development programs
- Marketing, communications and commercialisation opportunities
- Financial viability, independence and management
- People and culture
- Community and social leadership
- Relationships with a broad range of the ACA's stakeholders, including Cricket Australia and the state associations

The successful candidate will be a visionary leader and a strong strategic thinker with proven operational and organisational development skills. You will have a reputation as an energetic, hands-on executive who identifies and focuses on the real issues, inspires, guides and engages stakeholders to bring agreed strategies to life. This individual must have unquestioned integrity and credibility and the ability to continually earn the respect of our members, the management team, the cricket community and the general public.

Equally as important is your superior ability to communicate with diverse groups and unify them toward common goals. The CEO will be expected to make tough, principled decisions and remain committed to implementing those decisions in the best interests of the membership and the game.

It is expected the successful candidate will have relevant further education in fields such as law, commerce, economics or business. Ideally the preferred candidate will have a background in elite cricket/sport either as an administrator or player.
